OPERATION Focus, a state-wide campaign targeting drivers using mobile phones and not wearing seatbelts, got underway this month. Police would be extra vigilant during coming weeks. Police said that motorists using phones were an issue but the issue of drivers sending text messages was becoming more prevalent. Texting seems more of a trend than actually talking on their phone. Motorists are forking-out more than $40,000 daily for failing to wear their seatbelt or using their mobile phone and the rate of people flouting these laws is on the rise. Nearly 1000 motorists a week are caught breaking these road rules. Most are caught for texting or talking on their mobile phones, but authorities are stunned at the thousands every month refusing to strap themselves in. If caught, motorists can enjoy a $300-plus fine and three demerit points. Motorists who see someone using a mobile while driving can report the offence to Police Link on 13 14 44.

Samford/Dayboro Run 12 February 2012

19 cars gathered at the Big Fish for the run across to Samford and then onto Dayboro. The run was well organised by Dean and Georgina and after the run brief and dissemination of run sheets by Dean, the group headed-off down the highway to Bald Hills where it exited onto Linkfield Road. From there, a leisurely drive through Brendale where the convoy stopped to regroup, it was then off to Eatons Crossing Road and then onto Samford via Mount Samson Road arriving at around 0845. Two cars joined along the way bringing the tally to 21 making quite a spectacle and catching the eye of many onlookers as the group rolled into town.

Samford was its usual busy self and after a bit of queuing, the Club found its way into the park. Heavy rain the night before made the oval a little soft, however it had an excellent covering of turf.

By all accounts, the Samford event wasn't a big one but it did attract a variety of historical exhibits. The car display was rather small with just a few clubs representing. The CRCC exhibit was by far the biggest.

On arrival at the venue, members were given food and drink vouchers which was very generous on the part of the organisers. Something you don't get from larger car shows.

It was always the plan to spend just a few hours at Samford and then head over to the Dayboro Hotel for lunch, so at around 1100, the group saddled-up mosey'd on over to Dayboro. Although a little expensive, the food was great and so was the venue with its expansive verandahs and views of Dayboro.

A great run and a great day out with a variety of great cars and people. Thanks to Dean and Georgina for organising the run and for the effort put into it.

Joke of the week. Sent-in by Cyril A dog owner whose dog is a bitch and in heat, agrees to keep a neighbour's male dog while they are away on holidays. She believes she can keep them apart, keeping the male outside. Just as she is drifting off to sleep, she hears an awful howling and moaning. Rushing downstairs, she finds an open window and the dogs locked together. Powerless she calls her vet, who after many rings, answers the phone in a grumpy voice. After she explains the situation, the vet says, "Hang-up the phone and place it down by the dogs. I will call back and the ringing will make the male dog lose all of his sexual desires." "Do you think this will work?" "It sure did for me," he replied.
